ABOUT SAHIL BANGA

A published writer with couple of coffee-table books, few features in magazines and handful of photography projects, I have been busy doing what I do best – write.

For this marketing & advertising professional, writing is full-time job and hobby as well. Writing blogs since 2004, I have used many blogging platforms before finally documenting everything under one domain – Sahilosophy.com. Being a traveler opened my horizons and gave many visuals to the imaginary people and places I used in my fictions. A foodie with a weak resolve has always seen me over-indulge and over-spend on food. A camera in tow helps document wherever I eat, travel or experience.
